Art Unit: 1618

Claims 1-6 are presented for examination.

The response to the restriction of January 18, 2007 has been received and entered.

The examiner's search did not result in finding the claimed elected compound for the treatment of macular degeneration.

The examiner elected histone deacetylase inhibitor in general and the species of uveitis and diabetic retinopathy for examination purpose.

All the claims will be examined to the extent that they read on the elected subject matter.

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The claimed invention is directed to the phrase of "an HDAC inhibitor". The specification discloses examples of structures of some compounds within the scope of what is claimed. However, there is no evidence that there is any per se structure/function relationship between the disclosed HDAC inhibitors and any others that might be found using the claimed method. Structural identifying characteristics of group of HDAC inhibitors are not disclosed. Therefore, the claimed invention is not supported by adequate written description.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by WO 00/08048. The WO Patent teaches the use an HDAC inhibitor for the treatment of ophthalmic conditions, such as uveitis and diabetic complications. See the abstract, page 12, lines 26-30 and claim 7. The above reference makes clear that the claimed method of use is old and well known.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Zohreh A. Fay whose telephone number is (571) 272-0573. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday to Friday 9:30-6:00.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Michael Hartley can be reached on (571) 272-0616. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
